

Amanda Baaba Kaburise

Amanda is an Organisational Psychology graduate who tripped into the world of voice-overs and decided to make it home. She is a quick wit who lives for good conversation, especially if it comes with an even better glass of wine. She loves a good audiobook and would love to be the voice behind one. The idea of absorbing knowledge through reading while being the voice to carry that to a myriad more people is truly exciting. This Ghanaian born lady equally in love with the beauty and poetry of silence and sound simply looks forward to exploring the world through different mediums.
