

Vanessa Levenstein

Vanessa Levenstein has worked in the entertainment industry for over two decades. An award-winning copywriter she started her career with big hair and even bigger earrings presenting youth shows on TV for subjects she knew little about. She has spent many hours in the delightful confines of a recording studio where she has created radio ads. Vanessa has combined her passion for radio and reading by presenting a monthly book review on air. Her voice over-style is natural with a splash of energy.
