

Daniella Pellegrini

Many of my clients know that I have a broadcast quality home studio and can provide high quality, expertly and professionally executed voice-overs delivering on your requested style, tone, and pace. I have delivered work from my home studio for radio stations, production companies and advertising agencies across the country and all over the world, voicing station imaging and branding, corporate videos, radio and TV commercials, radio and TV promos, telephone on-hold messages etc. Live directing via Skype interactive sessions works incredibly well and allows you the level of control over the session that you desire, should you wish to direct the session at all

Image: Tongue Twisters