

Heike Brunner

Heike Brunner grew up in a bilingual (English/German) household and graduated from WITS with an Honours in Dramatic Art. She is a professional actress and voice artist who spent a decade living and working in France (plenty of time to become fluent in French). She also spent time acting in Los Angeles and New York. In Paris she was the weather voice for France 24 (the country's 24-hour news channel). In addition to narrating a number of interesting French documentaries in English, Heike has plenty of lip-synching and dubbing experience.

Image: Tongue Twisters