

Nkosinathi

Born in East London, not the other one you thinking about, but the one 1000km from Cape Town. I am new VO Artist with a voice to take you on a colourful adventure or perhaps if you like, help you unwind after a long day.

I have taken on this challenge to explore all the things I would like to accomplish in my life. Things, I truly believe I can be great at. By day, I am a business owner with interest in transport and fresh produce supply and a father to my identical twin. Everyday I'm blessed and every day is a blessing, is what I live by and sowing seeds of positivity and upliftment is what I live for.
